Design BFA Degree, Programs Offered

The Department of Design offers Bachelor of Fine Arts degree (BFA) in Design with concentrations in the following areas:

- Illustration & Animation
- Industrial Design
- Photography
- Visual Communication Design

Each of these concentrations center on a carefully-sequenced pathway of unique studio courses that constitutes a four-year track to graduation from the fall semester of the year of a student's admission. More information about the Design studio sequence is available at <https://arcd.ku.edu/policies-and-resources/>.

Summaries of each of the concentrations of the Design BFA are listed below:

Illustration and Animation

The Illustration & Animation program prepares students to develop and refine methodologies in image-making while acquiring an effective use of visual language and problem solving skills. Technical skills and techniques, as well as a refined understanding of composition, color, and value are developed through the introduction and exploration of traditional and contemporary media. Business and legal issues of the industry are addressed that prepare students for numerous professional options that include print media, book publishing, motion graphics, entertainment, gallery installation, fashion, toys and games, and surface design.

Industrial Design

Graduates of KU's Industrial Design program are particularly attractive to potential employers because of our well-rounded and rigorous curriculum.

Our students find career opportunities in a wide variety of disciplines including product design, furniture design, exhibit design, package design, human factors, design research and product planning. The variety of products and systems that fall within the potential scope of an industrial designer's work is extremely broad. Examples range from household appliances to aircraft interiors, furniture to major electronics equipment, transportation and vehicles, and myriad other product areas.

Photography

The Photography program at the University of Kansas is dedicated to evaluating and redefining the medium of photography. Through in-depth instruction, students develop a diverse technical skill set, becoming proficient in both analog and digital practices. The program encourages a strong work ethic, and places emphasis on visual literacy. Graduates of the Photography program at the University of Kansas leave with exceptional visual communication skills, fully prepared to successfully engage in a wide range of possible careers in lens-based media.

Visual Communication Design

Visual Communication Designers shape the information that everybody sees, uses and experiences. The Visual Communication Design program at KU prepares students for current professional demands and provides students with the fundamental design thinking, making and process skills required to build a rewarding career and facilitate life-long learning. Career options for visual communication designers include a wide range of areas such as traditional print media, magazine and book design, corporate marketing communications, branding, packaging design, exhibition and environmental design, motion graphic design, website design, interface design and more.

General Degree Requirements

Total Credit Hours Required for the Design BFA

In order to earn the Bachelor of Fine Arts in Design degree, students must complete a total of at least 120 credit hours. At least 45 of those credit hours must be completed at the 300+ level (also referred to as "junior/senior" level). At least 30 credit hours must be completed through KU (also referred to as "taken in residence") to receive a degree from the department and KU.

Maximum Number of Applicable Activity Credit Hours

Only three hours of activity and/or performance work (e.g. HSES 108 or BAND 210) will count toward the degree.

Maximum Accepted Age of Studio Transfer Credit

Transfer courses with course codes ADS, BDS, ILLU, INDD, PHTO, and VISC will not be accepted to fulfill requirements in the Studio & Professional Requirements component of the Design BFA if they are older than three calendar years from the semester to which the student is admitted to the Department of Design.

Remedial Courses

Remedial courses - those numbered below 100, such as MATH 2 - will not be counted toward the requirements of the Design BFA and may only serve only as prerequisites to other courses.

Minimum Required Grades for Foundation Studies and Major Studies Courses

Specific minimum grades are required for each course in the Foundation Studies and Major Studies requirements of the Design BFA. Failure to meet these minimum grade requirements can result in an extended track to graduation or prohibition from continuing in a student's concentration in the Design BFA. These minimum grades are documented each course's catalog description as well as at <https://arcd.ku.edu/minimum-grades-sequenced-courses> (<https://arcd.ku.edu/minimum-grades-sequenced-courses/>).

Minimum GPA Required to graduate from the Design BFA

Students must earn or exceed a 2.0 KU Cumulative Graduation GPA in order to be eligible to graduate from any concentration in the Design BFA.

Second Year Full Review

After completing second-year spring-semester Major Studies courses, students are required to participate in a portfolio review that is organized according to each student's concentration in the Design BFA, as outlined below:

Illustration & Animation:

- Students are required to participate in a portfolio review of all course content produced in both fall and spring semester Illustration & Animation courses. The Illustration & Animation faculty use this review to determine if a student's work is at a satisfactory level. Supplemental to the grade portion of the Portfolio Review, students are also evaluated on attendance, work habits, attitude and the ability to listen and learn from constructive criticism.

Industrial Design:

- The Portfolio Review is of all projects produced in both the fall and spring semesters in Industrial Design courses: INDD 212, INDD 284 and INDD 302. The Industrial Design faculty use this review to determine if the student's work is at an above satisfactory level. Supplemental to the grade portion of the Portfolio Review, students are also evaluated on attendance, work habits, attitude, and the ability to listen and learn from constructive criticism.

Photography:

- The primary component of the review is the submission of a photographic portfolio (10-15 images) of work made over the course of the previous year. Each portfolio is evaluated by a faculty committee upon the following criteria: originality, treatment of form and composition, engagement with subject matter and medium, quality of ideas, technical ability, and craftsmanship. In addition to their portfolio, students are also evaluated on attendance, work habits, professionalism, participation, and GPA.

Visual Communication Design:

- The Portfolio Review is of all projects produced in both the fall and spring semesters in Visual Communication Design courses. The Visual Communication Design faculty use this review to determine if the students' work is at a satisfactory level. Supplemental to the grade portion of the Portfolio Review, students are also evaluated on attendance, work habits, attitude, and the ability to listen and learn from constructive criticism.

In addition to passing the Second-Year Full Review, students must earn or exceed the minimum required grades for their spring-semester Major Studies courses to continue in the studio sequence for their concentration of the Design BFA.

Students who fail to pass the Second-Year Full Review and/or fail to earn or exceed the minimum required grades for their spring-semester Major Studies courses do not have the option of repeating any Major Studies coursework and must change their major.

Each of the four concentrations of the Design BFA degree consist of a carefully-arranged sequence of courses that follow a four-year track from the fall semester of a student's year of admission to the program. On the sample graduation plans for each concentration as outlined below, sequenced courses are marked with an (S) and must be taken in the listed order. Such courses are only available in either fall or spring semesters and cannot be compressed into an accelerated time frame.

Students should note the Second-Year Full Review and the minimum required grades for sequenced courses. These policies may affect a student's track to graduation, pending academic performance. Each of these policies is outlined under the "Degree Requirements" tab on this page.

The plans below are samples. Non-sequenced requirements of the degree can be fulfilled prior to admission to the Department of Design, and/or may be taken during summer semesters. Students should work with their academic advisor to ensure proper enrollment.
