Graduate Licensure Program in Art Education

The VAE Graduate Licensure Program (GLP) combines graduate and undergraduate courses including a semester-long student teaching experience that help students obtain their initial teaching license (PreK-12). The GLP is for individuals who have completed baccalaureate degrees in studio art, design, art history, or other art-related fields. Students must apply and be admitted to the Visual Art M.A. Program to be eligible to obtain their teaching license. M.A. Degree Requirements

The Master of Arts Degree in Visual Art Education provides students with a broad knowledge of the history, philosophy, research methods, and current practices in the field. The program requires a minimum of 30 credit hours taken at the graduate level. Students complete a balance of visual art education courses including VAE 800, VAE 869, and VAE 875. The remainder of coursework is completed in related fields such as history of art, education, museum studies, psychology, etc. which becomes a student's emphasis. This emphasis, selected in consultation with a VAE faculty advisor, provides a broad, interdisciplinary preparation in art education.

Thesis, Project, or Examination Options

To integrate and apply coursework, students select from three options as their final academic activity: thesis, project, or examination. A thesis is an independent research investigation of a topic related to visual art education using quantitative, qualitative, historical or philosophical methods. The project option involves application of theory and principles of visual art education in an instructional setting. The final option, a written examination taken during the final semester of enrollment, requires students to demonstrate their knowledge of current issues in the field. Students selecting the examination option complete a total of 37 credit hours for the degree while the thesis and project options require a total of 30 credit hours.
