

Master of Science in Supply Chain Management

Master of Science in Supply Chain Management

The Master of Science degree program is for students who have completed a baccalaureate degree in business or a related degree as prescribed by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business and want to do concentrated study in a specific business area. Deficiencies in a student's undergraduate program result in additional hours being required for the degree. These are determined before or at the time of initial enrollment.

Supply chain management is only available to U.S. Army majors, or major-eligible captains stationed at Fort Leavenworth in Leavenworth, Kansas. The program is lock-step, 24 credit hours from KU and must be completed in 2 semesters. Six hours of credit are afforded students from concurrent course work at Command and General Staff College.

Admission to Master's Programs

All graduate programs are open to those who have earned baccalaureate degrees from accredited colleges or universities and whose undergraduate academic records, scores on the required standardized examination, and prior work experience indicate that they have the capability to complete the program. Admission to all programs in business is limited on the basis of space, facilities, faculty, and other resources.

All applications for admission to the M.S. programs must include

1. Graduate application (<http://graduate.ku.edu/ku-graduate-application/>); (<http://graduate.ku.edu/ku-graduate-application/>)
2. 1 official transcript of each college and university record;
3. Scores on the TOEFL if required;
4. A current résumé; and

Completed applications are reviewed by committee, and action is taken on them periodically throughout the year. Each applicant is notified by Graduate Studies of the action taken on his or her application.

All admissions to any graduate program in business are subject to and in accordance with all rules and regulations. See Admission (http://policy.ku.edu/graduate-studies/admission-to-graduate-study/?num1_1=) in the Graduate Studies section of the online catalog for more information.

Submit your graduate application online (<http://graduate.ku.edu/ku-graduate-application/>). Send original transcripts of all completed college and university course work and all other requested application materials to the school:
