Graduate Certificate in Transition

Transition Graduate Certificate

Designed to be completed in as little as one year, the online Graduate Certificate in Secondary Special Education and Transition Services provides graduates with knowledge in evidence-based practices to improve the post-secondary outcomes of youth with disabilities.

In order to be admitted to the online graduate certificate, a Bachelor’s degree is required.

Completion of a graduate certificate is not a guarantee of licensure or endorsement of any kind. It is each student’s responsibility to determine the licensure and endorsement requirements in his or her state and to apply for the licenses or endorsements necessary for his or her career goals.

Please find additional information on the webpage (https://educationonline.ku.edu/online-degrees/special-education-department/transition-certificate/) for the program.

Graduate Admission to the School of Education and Human Sciences

Graduate programs in education are open to students with acceptable baccalaureate and graduate degrees whose academic records indicate that they can do successful work at the graduate level. Regular admission requires a grade-point average of at least 3.0 on a 4.0 scale in prior degrees. Individual departments may require additional information and may have more stringent admission requirements.

Departments that offer provisional admission have minimum grade point average requirements. Check admission requirements for individual programs. Applicants must provide evidence of ability to work successfully at the graduate level, including experience in and commitment to the profession. Exceptions to established policies must be sought individually by petition to the Graduate Division of the School of Education and Human Sciences.

See Admission in the Graduate Studies (http://catalog.ku.edu/graduate-studies/) section of the online catalog for more information.

Each department in the School of Education and Human Sciences sets its own application deadlines. Prospective graduate students should contact their departments for more information.

To be considered for admission, prospective students must have completed a Bachelor’s degree with a GPA greater than 3.0. Applicants with an Undergraduate GPA below 3.0 should contact an admission advisor for information about provisional admissions.

International applicants must meet English language proficiency requirements. These requirements are located here (http://graduate.ku.edu/english-proficiency-requirements/).
