Master of Arts in Global and International Studies

The M.A. in GIST provides an analytically sophisticated understanding of the contemporary global arena and cultivates the skills and knowledge to operate in a world where traditional boundaries are disappearing. Through the 33-credit hour program, students develop a specialization in a world region and can pursue interests in global politics, society, and culture across a broad range of courses in the humanities and social sciences.

Students in Global and International Studies have access to courses by top-notch research faculty across a wide variety of relevant disciplines at KU’s main campus in Lawrence (http://www.ku.edu/). Besides access to quality instruction and content, our students have access to the amazing international resources that put KU on the top shelf for international education—a nationally-ranked Study Abroad Program, instruction in 40 foreign languages, and local, national, and international internship opportunities.

"Traditional" Master’s Track

The self-tailoring and interdisciplinary field of Global and International Studies prepares graduate students with marketable skills (such as professional certification opportunities and research and writing skills) and the knowledge to deal with contemporary global issues. This is critical in our contemporary world in which both problems and opportunities increasingly transcend national boundaries.

KU’s Master of Arts in Global and International Studies (https://global.ku.edu/global-ma/) is designed for those who seek a better understanding of international issues that shape public policy and the global economy and who want to have an impact in these areas.

Interagency Studies Track

The Interagency track (https://global.ku.edu/applying-interagency-studies-program/) of the Master’s degree program in Global and International Studies is a one-year program designed exclusively for military personnel pursuing their Intermediate Level Education (ILE) program at the Command and General Staff College (CGSC) at Ft. Leavenworth.

The objective of the Interagency Studies Program (ISP), is to prepare military officers for working in interagency environments by expanding their abilities to conceptualize and address issues beyond their military training. The program offers coursework from multiple disciplines with an array of theoretical frameworks.

KU courses are held primarily at the KU Ft. Leavenworth campus, along with courses at the Command General Staff College and at the KU Lawrence campus. Classes are primarily offered in the evening and run the length of the academic year - three courses August-December, three courses January-April, and two courses May-June.

Admission to Graduate Studies

An applicant seeking to pursue graduate study in the College may be admitted as either a degree-seeking or non-degree seeking student.

Policies and procedures of Graduate Studies govern the process of Graduate admission. These may be found in the Graduate Studies (http://catalog.ku.edu/graduate-studies/) section of the online catalog.

Please consult the Departments & Programs (http://catalog.ku.edu/liberal-arts-sciences/) section of the online catalog for information regarding program-specific admissions criteria and requirements. Special admissions requirements pertain to Interdisciplinary Studies degrees, which may be found in the Graduate Studies section of the online catalog.

Graduate Admission

Eligibility criteria for admission to the M.A. program follow Graduate Studies’ admission policy (http://policy.ku.edu/graduate-studies/admission-to-graduate-study/). Non-native speakers of English must meet English proficiency requirements as described here (http://graduate.ku.edu/english-proficiency-requirements/).

For the traditional and Interagency Studies M.A. programs, students are admitted in the fall only. Interagency Studies applications are due by July 23. Applications for the "traditional" MA track are due January 15. All applicants must check the application requirements through the traditional (https://global.ku.edu/how-apply/MA) and I (https://coms.ku.edu/admissions/)SP admission (https://global.ku.edu/applying-interagency-studies-program/) pages.

Potential students must submit a complete online graduate application (http://graduate.ku.edu/application-process/). For additional questions regarding program requirements and application processes, please contact the Director of Graduate Studies, Dr. Luciano Tosta (https://global.ku.edu/tosta-luciano/). Applicants may also contact the department (https://global.ku.edu/global-ma/) directly:

M.A. Degree Requirements

The Master of Arts in Global and International Studies is a 33 graduate credit hours. All students complete 9 hours of specific requirements at the 700 level:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Code</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Hours</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>GIST 701</td>
<td>Approaches to International Studies</td>

<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GIST 710</td>
<td>Research Design for International Area Studies</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

In addition to the 9 hours of specific requirements, students must then complete 21 credit hours of electives at 700 level or above. These electives form 2 coherent clusters:

Regional Specialization Cluster:

These courses in this cluster should give students focused knowledge about a selected region of the world. Up to 3 language courses (9 hours) at or above the 500 level may also count toward this requirement.

Topic Specialization Cluster:

This cluster must focus on a topic specialization approved by the student’s adviser. Students can choose current global and international themes, or they can select an existing graduate certification program offered by another department, such as certificates in community health and development, peace and conflict, women gender and sexuality studies, international business, public administration or communication studies.

For more on the regional and topical elective options, consult the GIST graduate student handbook (http://global.ku.edu/courses-offered/) or contact one of the GIST graduate advisors.

For all students, the M.A. degree also requires evidence of current competence (equivalent to 2 years of successful college-level study) in a modern spoken and written language other than their native tongue; courses taken to complete this requirement generally do not count toward the degree. Students must meet all general requirements as well as program requirements.

Thesis Option

Students electing to write and defend a thesis must have their thesis project proposal approved by their thesis advisor prior to enrolling in GIST 898 Thesis and Research Project Writing. Students choosing the thesis option must complete GIST 898. For guidelines and policy regarding the thesis, please consult the GIST graduate student handbook (http://global.ku.edu/thesis-option/).

Non-thesis Options

Option #1 (Research Project and Oral Exam) – students selecting this option are required to take GIST 898 and complete a research project of more limited scope and scale than a thesis, and the project will be followed by an oral exam. For guidelines and policy regarding the research project option, please consult the GIST graduate student handbook (http://global.ku.edu/non-thesis-option/).

Option #2 (Exam) – students choosing this option must take an additional 3 credit hours, corresponding to one of their 2 coherent elective clusters. In the final semester, the student must successfully complete a written examination on the core course content (GIST 701 and GIST 702) and the student’s regional and substantive areas of focus. This is followed by an oral exam. Students considering this option must consult the graduate director first. For guidelines and policy regarding the written and oral exam option, please consult the GIST graduate student handbook (http://global.ku.edu/non-thesis-option/).

Interagency Degree Requirements

The Interagency Studies Program (ISP) is a unique track within the GIST master’s degree for students in the Intermediate Level Education (ILE) program at the Command and General Staff College (CGSC) at Ft. Leavenworth. The curriculum combines coursework from KU and from the ILE program. Students who complete the ILE program at CGSC are approved for a reduced credit hour master's degree at KU, allowing them to complete the Global & International Studies master's with a minimum of 24 graduate credit hours.

Below are the KU courses that a student can typically expect to take.
